

Course Number/Name: Econ 3950-001 Economics Internship

Instructor and email address: Prof. Thomas Maloney, maloney@economics.utah.edu

Core Course Information

GOALS AND OBJECTIVES:

Through Econ 3950, students may earn 3 hours of Economics elective credit for academic work carried out in conjunction with an approved internship. You can investigate available internship openings or discuss the suitability of an internship you've identified by contacting Dominique Blanc, Dominique.blanc@csbs.utah.edu

EXPECTATIONS FOR STUDENTS IN COURSE:

Students are expected to complete the required academic assignments (see below) in a timely way while fulfilling their internship duties. In particular, the research paper (and the related proposal and rough draft) will be held to a high standard with regard to application of economic understanding, use of quality sources, and clarity and professionalism in writing.

EXAMS/MAJOR ASSIGNMENT PRELIMINARY SCHEDULE:

Brief written updates will be due approximately weekly beginning Friday Sept. 1. The paper proposal is due Friday, Oct. 20. The rough draft is due Friday, November 17. The final paper is due Friday, December 15. More details are available at the class Canvas site.

REQUIRED/RECOMMENDED COURSE MATERIALS:

There are no required books for this class.